Program Overview

The Fine Art Program for Teens provides young artists with a comprehensive and structured pathway to develop essential skills and explore various artistic media. Students begin by learning foundational techniques that enhance their observational abilities, focusing on line, form, proportion, and perspective. They then delve into the art of capturing facial features and expressions, emphasizing accurate proportions to create lifelike representations. As they progress, they gain a deeper understanding of the human body's structure. The program also introduces various painting techniques, allowing students to experiment with color blending, layering, and texture creation across different mediums.

Program Content

- Still life drawing course.
- Portrait drawing course.
- Anatomy drawing course.
- Watercolor painting course.
- Oil and acrylic painting course.
