Learning Outcomes

By the end of this Program, students will be able to:

- Develop a comprehensive understanding of the fashion design process, including sketching, sewing, and pattern making, laying a solid foundation for further study or career development.
- Gain the ability to translate design concepts into clear, professional illustrations and patterns that communicate ideas effectively.
- Acquire the technical skills necessary to construct garments, from pattern drafting to sewing, ensuring designs are functional and well-executed.
- Learn how to work with different fabrics, understanding their properties and how they impact both design and garment construction.
- Develop a high level of precision in sewing, pattern making, and sketching, ensuring quality in both the creative and technical aspects of fashion design.
- Gain insight into the entire fashion design workflow, from concept to finished garment, understanding the relationship between design, construction, and material choice.

- Be well-prepared to advance to intermediate or advanced fashion design courses, or to apply skills in entry-level roles within the fashion industry.

Final Project

The graduation project consists of two or three key sessions, designed to guide students through the final steps of their fashion design journey. The first session focuses on mood board creation, where students are required to visually communicate the inspiration and theme of their collection. This mood board should include images, colors, fabrics, textures, and sketches that reflect the concept, style, and overall mood they intend to convey. Students will present their mood boards for feedback, refining them to ensure a clear and cohesive direction for their project. The final submission includes a presentation of the three completed outfits, along with a comprehensive explanation of the design choices, materials used, and overall vision of the collection. The project concludes with a final evaluation, where students demonstrate their ability to bring their ideas to life through their outfits.

Requirements for Successfully Passing the program

- Commitment to attend the training courses and not to exceed the permitted absence rate, which is 15% of the number of hours for the training course.
- Submission of the courses projects.
